

SIGMA LAMBDA TKE

SEPTEMBER/ 2017

Another Year, Another Pledge Class

As the fall semester begins to start up, a new batch of freshmen will take their first steps into the rest of their lives as they embark on their college careers. Some men will make their greatest decisions of their lives, and decide to join the Sigma Lambda chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon. However, it is up to our fraters to make sure that they recruit the best men possible.

In preparation for what has the potential to be one of the most competitive rushes we have seen, older members have been using their old tricks to persuade young freshmen, while younger members have been using their first rush as a chance to improve their fraternity.

For more information on upcoming rush events, contact rush chair Ben Loftis on his email : loftisb@nsuok.edu

"The things you can't measure are often the things that give people the most success."

Frater Aaron Rodgers

REMEMBERING 9/11

September 11th, 2001 will be a day that will live in infamy. In honor of all of those that lost their lives on that faithful day, the men of Sigma Lambda participated in the 9/11 day of service. Many different organizations came together to help make the town of Tahlequah look a little bit better by picking up trash off the side of the road.

While 9/11 will forever be a stain on American history, it does not stop others from coming together.

