The Capital Teke is Back!

It's been about nine months since we last issued a Capital Teke newsletter because we thought that it was obsolete given the amount of information available on our web site, Facebook fan page, Twitter, and via email. Through your feedback, though, we realized the error in our way so we're bringing back the quarterly newsletter. We appreciate your feedback, so please continue to send comments and suggestions to alumni@dcteke.org

2016 Holiday Party
